RRS Addresses Equality and Bias

We are proud to introduce our first featured speaker of the 2020 RRS Virtual Annual Meeting, Dr. Karen Winkfield, who will be discussing “Racial justice in radiation oncology and research.”

In our interview with Dr. Winkfield, she passionately presents her timely topic and key points of the lecture.

Join us for Dr. Winkfield's presentation and many other important topics Oct. 18-21!

Articles and Studies Concerning Gender in the Workplace

Below are several articles offering insight into the issue of under-representation of women and gender bias in the workplace, particularly in the sciences. As we work to support and grow our Rad Women, we hope you will find this information useful.

- Role models have major influence on female university choices
- Gender bias kept alive by those who think it's dead
- Even when women outnumber men, gender bias persists among science undergrads
- Is "mommy brain" a real thing?
- A statement of solidarity from the Scholars-in-Training Committee

Continue the conversation on the Rad Women forum!

Marie Curie Biopic #WomenWhoCurie

Amazon Prime recently launched their Marie Curie biopic, Radioactive! While we know there was some artistic liberty taken with the film, we are excited to have Dr. Curie’s accomplishments brought to the mainstream in hopes to spark interest in our field. What do you think of the film?

Share your thoughts with #WomenWhoCurie!